

PWRbrite

Installation

PWRbrite may be installed on any smooth surface using the self-adhesive quick-clips provided. Once the location is determined, make sure the surface is clean and grease free and then place the light. Press PWRbrite with the quick-clips into place.

PWRbrite may be rotated in the quick-clips to aim the light where it is needed. PWRbrite can be removed from the quick-clips to also be used as a work light. Additional quick-clips are available allowing PWRbrite to be used in more than one location. Screw-in Nylon cable clamps may also be used to permanently mount PWRbrite.

PWRbrite may be powered from a DC power source, 10-25 volts, 200ma minimum. At voltage above 16 volts, there will be an increased amount of heat that can be felt over the cord end of the device. This is normal.

For convenience, PWRbrite is equipped with Anderson Powerpole® connectors. PWRbrite can now be connected to a RIGrunner DC Distribution Panel or into the optional DC wall supply.
